Republican Oversight

Republicans' New Lapel

Republican Cuff-Links

The tragedy in America, besides the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan, and Hurricane Katrina, is the corrupt Republican Party. Republicans have become so corrupt that they would like to change the laws to be sure that the Republican president isn't breaking the law. It's not just one or two incompetent politicians, it's the entire party, rotting from the top down, sinking in a swamp of failed policies, failed leadership, and dirty money. The Republicans lie to, cheat, and steal from the American people.

Their vision for America is a country where Republicans have one set of laws for themselves, and one set of laws for everyone else. It is a land where Republicans take all the money they want, and whoever doesn't agree with that will be punished. The Republicans' America is a place where only White Republican votes count. Their vision for the future is endless war and hostility toward those who don't agree with them. Their goal for America is continued dependency on a 20th century resource, and if that means killing innocent people, then so be it, as long as no Republicans of good standing have to die or do the killing.

That's the Republicans' America.
