PR No. 8/2007

Editorial Paintings announces War Without End: Dix Revisited now on view in Gallery 1 at www.editorialpaintings.com:

The war continues. The human damage and destruction continues. The failed presidency of George W. Bush continues. America's physical self-destruction continues.

There was a man so mangled that only his eyes were visible “through miles and miles of bandages...[h]e remembers that when he came to, after a long blackout, he had his face in a puddle of water (and he thought he wasn't so hurt). Then he noticed a big morsel of his tongue, all his teeth, and various other fragments of himself floating in the puddle.”

Diary of the writer, Colette, at St.-Malo hospital, World War I*
